Human trafficking happens when (1) force, fraud, or coercion are used to compel a person into work or prostitution or (2) a minor exchanges sex for anything of value.

IF YOU SUSPECT HUMAN TRAFFICKING

If a potential trafficking victim wants you to contact local authorities, call 911. If a victim does not want you to call local authorities, give them the number of the National Human Trafficking Hotline of the country you are in:

- U.S. National Human Trafficking Hotline: 1-888-373-7888
- Canada National Human Trafficking Hotline: 1-833-900-1010
- Mexico National Human Trafficking Hotline: 800-5533-000

#DestinationHope

BEST
BUSINESSES ENDING SLAVERY & TRAFFICKING

BEHAVIORAL INDICATORS SPECIFIC TO AIR TRAVEL

- A passenger who does not know the person who purchased their ticket, how the ticket was purchased, who is picking them up, and/or who is traveling with them.
- Someone traveling on a one-way, last-minute, stand-by, or same-day booking paid by someone else in cash.
- Someone traveling with little or no money or personal items, e.g. no carry-on bag.
- A passenger who seems unaware of what items are in their carry-on or checked baggage.
- Someone whose traveling companions speak for them to refuse food or beverages.
- A traveler who indicates little or no knowledge of their destination or who is meeting them.
- Someone wearing clothing inappropriate for the weather, or clothing used to conceal signs of abuse like wounds or bruises.
- Any other signs of control, violence, deception, or manipulation.